

Here.
There.
Everywhere.

QUESTION:
What moves through weeds in a field as well as galaxies
billions of miles away?

www.nasa.gov

Here.
There.
Everywhere.

ANSWER: WIND

Winds form from the movement of air from regions where the pressure is high to where it is low. This can happen on Earth, as well as on other planets, around stars, and across galaxies.

<http://hte.si.edu/wind>