

Explosive Eruptions: As heat is injected from below, pressure builds. In the left picture, a volcano erupts and spews ash, dust and gas into the air. In the right picture, energetic eruptions are powered by jets of high energy particles as material falls into a black hole.

